April 2025

Wahnapiatae First Nation

North River Walleye Spawning Study

Wahnapiatae First Nation, in partnership with the Anishinabek/Ontario Fisheries Resource Centre will be conducting a Walleye spawning survey in the North Wahnapiatae River this spring.

The spawning survey will take place mid-late April 2025, shortly after ice out, and will continue until water temperatures exceed 10°C. Walleye spawning will be evaluated using night-time visual surveys and non-lethal capture methods. Walleye will be tagged and released upon capture. This survey will help us assess the health of the North Wahnapiatae River walleye population.
